OPEN TRIAL OF
'COLOR LINE'
SUITE HERE

Whether theater patrons or guests at other public places can be segregated with reference to race or color, was a question to be decided today in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court, where the $3500 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carr, of El Modena, against the Princess theater of Santa Ana and its manager, C. E. Walker, came to trial at 10 a.m.

The Carrs, through their attorney, Otto Jacobs, declare that the state law forbids such segregation and requires that the accommodation of all public places be made available to all alike.

They declare, furthermore, that when they attended the Princess theater one night several months ago, the management prevented them from occupying a seat on the lower floor and compelled them to sit in the balcony which was, they allege, reserved for Mexicans.

Carr's wife is of the Mexican race, it is said, but the couple had, they declare, been attending the theater frequently and occupying seats on the lower floor with out question. They were thus, they allege, shocked and mortified by the asserted course of the management. The damage suit was the result of injured feelings and hurt pride.

The defense was represented at today's trial by the legal firm of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhard.

FAVORS RENTING OF
NEW LIBRARY ROOM

Pointing out that Los Angeles for fifteen years or more has maintained the public library of that city in rental quarters, J. S. Smart, member of the Santa Ana library board, today declared his belief that renting of additional quarters here would offer a solution to the problem of the library board, pending possible establishment of a civic center on the site of the present Frances E. Willard junior high school, North Main street.

He declared as erroneous the impression held in some quarters that the local library cannot maintain service unless the present building is greatly enlarged or a new one is built.

"When we build, we should build for the requirements of the city twenty-five or fifty years hence and, therefore, we should not be in a hurry," Smart continued.

"Five years is not a long time in the life of a city. If by waiting that length of time a building and site could be acquired in Santa Ana that would be a 'thing of beauty and a joy forever,' I think we ought to wait."

"Some arrangement can be made to relieve the present congestion if members of the library board will but set their minds to it."

INSTRUCTED VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

An instructed verdict for the defendants lost a $30,000 damage suit for Mr. Irene Keich of Orange, it was revealed today, following the three days' trial for her case against the Orange County Rock and Gravel company and Lee Eckhart, employee of the company.

The jury was directed by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams yesterday to return a verdict for the defendants.

Mrs. Keich had claimed damages on account of injuries she received in an accident near Orange, last June, when a truck driven by Eckhart, colliding with a car driven by Otto Keich, husband of the plaintiff.

Mrs. Keich was represented by Attorneys James L. Allen and James A. Davis. Attorneys L. A. West and A. W. Rutan, of Head, Rutan and Scovel, appeared for the defense.

FINES MERCHANTS
CIRCULATING BILLS

UNLESS the distribution of handbills in Santa Ana ceases, other arrests will ensue, City Marshal Claude Rogers declared here today, following the fining of two business houses $15 each in the court of City Recorder W. F. Heathman and the scheduled appearance of another firm this afternoon, on charges of having violated the ordinance forbidding the distribution of advertising handbills.

Rogers said that the ordinance would be strictly enforced so far as his department was concerned, and that distributors of handbills or any other form of advertising literature would be arrested.

London's Leaning Tower
In Danger of Falling

LONDON, Dec. 20.—London has a leaning tower of Pisa—the tower of St. Chrysostom's, a curious old church, near Peckham Rye. The Rev. George Potter, the new vicar, states in a letter to his parishioners that when he first visited St. Chrysostom's he found a church that looked "perilously like falling down if any one sneezed or snored too heavily in it."

"No one would be surprised if it fell in one day," said a parochial. "Everything inside the church seems to be falling to pieces with age."

The church is now under repair.

Laguna Citizens Buy
Stock in Local Bank

A contract for the sale of the banking bank stock interest owned by Isaac Springer of Los Angeles in the Citizens' bank of Laguna Beach, which was acquired by E. Walter Pyne about three weeks ago, was transferred last week by Pyne to a group of prominent citizens of Laguna Beach, it was learned here today.

Tuesday these citizens purchased this stock of Springer as trustees. The trustees expect to sell this stock later to such persons as may be determined to be of benefit to the bank, as stockholders, it was said. All of the stock of the bank is now owned by Laguna Beach citizens, it was declared.

WOMAN IN JAIL FOR AUTO CRASH DEATHS

(By United Press Leased Wire)

PASADENA, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Charles Sanders was in jail here today in default of $10,000 bond, facing a manslaughter charge in connection with the death, several weeks ago, of two women, said to have been struck down by a machine occupied by Mrs. Sanders and her husband, L. G. Sanders.

Refusal of Chief of Police Kelley to grant the woman immunity, following her reported willingness to help locate her husband, resulted in her being detained.

The Sanders, Monrovia restaurant proprietors, are said to have moved to Texas, following the accident. There, it is reported, they quarreled, and Mrs. Sanders returned to Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—The chief speakers today at the California Teachers' association will be Dr. Eugene Davenport of the University of Illinois and Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford University.

Dr. Finney and Frank Waller, literary editor of the Illinois State Journal, were the principal speakers at the session held last night.

Psychonatalogists were scored by Allen in his speech on "Turning Fear Into Faith."

"Because you are normal and wholesome in your thoughts about men and women, clean, poised, sane and gentle, you are not bothered about the neurotic, erotic or tommyrotic," said Allen. "The honest man knows that if confidence, good will and honesty were not the prevalent belief of men with reference to one another and institutions, the entire structure of modern business would not last ten months."

Walter B. Crane will preside over the business meeting to be held today.

PASADENA ROSE FETE DETAILS COMPLETED

PASADENA. Nov. 20.—More than 100 floral floats, automobiles and equipages of every description, led by various bands, will usher in Pasadena's fiftieth year as a California municipality and the thirty-fifth annual Tournament of Roses, New Year's morning at 10:30 o'clock.

In the parade twenty-five sister cities of the Southland will be represented, interspersed by twenty-six famous bands and other musical organizations. With the thought and care of thousands of decorators and artisans everything is in readiness for the throng of visitors.

Police and traffic arrangements this year, under the direction of Chairman David Blankenhorn, point to perfect facility in handling with comfort the 300,000 expected visitors. Maps, to the number of 30,000, have been distributed over Southern California, these containing simple directions for those wishing to see the Tournament parade. Congestion will be avoided, if possible, Blankenhorn declared.

Harry M. Ticknor, chairman of the parade committee, himself grand esteemed leading knight of the B. P. O. E., announces that James B. McFarland, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, will be the guest of the Tournament. The latter will give a sterling cup to one of the eighteen floral entries offered by Elksdom of Southern California cities, in his honor.

Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Glendale, Ontario, Pomona, Redlands and a dozen other neighboring cities, will vie for the heavy sterling cups, put up by Pasadena chamber of commerce and Civic association, for the two most beautiful entries in the parade. This year there are early indications that novel and startling designs will be seen, departing from old standards of floral decoration in every way, and gardens all over the Southland are commanded to the last blossom to enrich the charming scene.

Interest centers in the Historical Pageant of Pasadena, which, with its twenty-five floats, will occupy a solid division in the center of the line of march. Miss Sibyl Jones, who suggested this beautiful commemoration of Pasadena's jubilee year, states that all the principal episodes from California's glittering page of history will be faithfully and beautifully depicted.

The Tournament ball at the Maryland, New Year's night, will fittingly close what will undoubtedly prove the greatest floral festival seen in America.

DEBUTANTES ACT AS TRAFFIC COPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Six New York debutantes now understand why traffic policemen have furrows in their brows. Accustomed to view the streaming pageantry of Fifth avenue from the near side of a steering wheel, they undertook and not without success, to regulate the show today in behalf of the police department.

For half an hour these fashionable girls took charge of traffic at the Forty-Second, Fifteenth and Fifty-seventh street intersections of Fifth Avenue, from the near side of a steering wheel, they undertook and not without success, to regulate the show today in behalf of the police department.

The debutantes were giving their services as an advertising stunt for the foreign automotive exposition which opens tomorrow at the Astor hotel. The same sextette will sell cars at the show and turn over their commissions to the charity fund of the child labor committee.

Besides Miss Stout and Miss McCool, there were Miss Margaret Moore and Miss Margaret Hennessey at Fifteenth street, and Miss Constance Banks with an associate at Fifty-Seventh.

This was an increase of 254 percent over 1912, in which year the public debt was $146,751,568, or an average per capita debt of $142.52, according to a statement of the United States Department of Commerce.

The assessed valuation of all property subject to general property taxes increased only 44 percent during the same period, the figures being $4,201,148,101 last year as compared with $2,921,277,451 in 1912. The per capita assessed valuation increased from $1,095.13 in 1912 to $1,153.20 last year while the per capita tax levy increased from $23.50 in 1912 to $48.97 last year.

The statement of the department shows that the average rate per $100 of assessed valuation increased during fifty-two years from $2.13 in 1869 to $2.15 in 1912, but jumped to $4.25 between 1912 and last year, a period of ten years.

Last Chance to Buy East-West Football Tickets Is Tomorrow

F. M. Hughes, representing the navy, will be at the Chamber of Commerce here tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to sell tickets to the East and West football game at Pasadena. New Year's day, it was announced here by J. C. Metzgar, secretary.

According to Metzgar, Hughes will have with him tickets for a section on the thirty-third line. The threat was an aftermath to a divorce action in the courtroom of Superior Judge Cabaniss.

Judge Cabaniss ordered the Beall's child, Thomas, 8 years old, into the custody of the mother during the holidays while the suit is pending. Beall objected in vain to this ruling. Mrs. Beall is the niece of Risouri, and her husband is connected with the Eagle Laundry company.

Immediately following the judge's decision, Risouri was said to have followed Beall from the court, hurled a name at him and threatened his life.

The secretary said that sale of tickets will close Monday.

WOMAN IN DIVORCE SUIT THREATENED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20.—Flourishing revolver in the corridor of the city hall and threatening to kill Thomas Beall, a relative who is being sued for divorce, Charles Risouri was overpowered and disarmed by a group of bystanders, witnesses say. Annual Holiday Party
Of Electrical Firm
Enjoyed at Inn

Expressing the spirit of the Christmas season, the Robertson Electric company last night was host to its employees and their families at a Christmas party and turkey dinner at St. Ann's Inn.

As the second annual Christmas party of the company, it was particularly emphasized the growth of the organization by a substantial increase in the working force over that of a year ago. It was announced that fifty men and women were now in the employ of the company. Present last night were 100 adults and six children.

It was truly a "family Christmas party" for a number of the children entertained with Christmas readings and songs. They were Master William Stearns; son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Stearns; Little Vivian Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Martin; Nina June Robertson, daughter of Mrs. J. G. Robertson; Master Donn Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hart, and Miss Lillian Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Newman.

Other numbers on the program were a reading and vocal selection by Miss Holly Lash, accompanied by Catharine Packard; quartette numbers by "Jack" Rhoades, C. W. Christensen, M. K. Beatty and Orlan Robertson, piano solo, Miss Packard; singing contest between F. T. Martin and Mrs. Muriel Hall with Miss Kathleen Showengerat directing; vocal selections by M. K. Beatty and community singing led by Beatty, with Miss Ruth Armstrong presiding at the piano, address by the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, and remarks by Horace Fine, of the Register staff.

Following the dinner, Mr. Beatty, in behalf of the employees, presented to Mrs. Robertson and family, a beautiful mirror, as an expression by the employees of their appreciation of the kindly consideration and courteous treatment extended by the management in the past year.

Overcome with feeling at this expression of loyalty from the men and women who served the organization for the past year, Mrs. Robertson was unable to respond further than by a brief word of thanks. Orlan Robertson, manager of the company, in a happy way, presided as toastmaster.

The evening was concluded with distribution of presents and candy from a beautifully lighted and decorated tree. Distribution was under the direction of J. W. Rose who was assisted by little men and women of the party.

The following were present:

Messrs. and Mesdames R. P. Allen and Lyle, C. R. Brill and family, Norman Burgess and Emerson Burgess, E. M. Hart, Buster and Donn Hart, H. C. Neumann and Lillian Neumann, F. J. Lincoln, O. H. POSTAL DELUGE CONTINUES AT S. A. OFFICE

Although many of the packages now being mailed from Santa Ana are consigned to California and Pacific coast points, there has been only a slight decrease in the receipts at the post office here during the past few days, according to Postmaster T. E. Stephenson.

Yesterday's receipts were $1,120, thus making the third day in Uncle Sam's big clearing house when receipts have averaged above $1,000. Last year receipts ranged above $1,000 on two days only. Indications were that today's receipts would go above the $1,000 mark, thus making the fourth day for heavy receipts this year.

Indications were, according to post office workers, that last Monday's figure, $1,370, will prove the peak day in Christmas post office receipts. Last year's peak day, $1,230, was December 19.

According to Assistant Postmaster James Alexander, pre-Christmas campaigns, wherein patrons were urged to mail their gifts early, have done much to relieve congestion this year.

"This is noticeable, not only in connection with outgoing mail, but applies, as well, to incoming mail," said Alexander. "Indications are that much of the Christmas incoming mail will be in Santa Ana and Orange county the latter part of this week."

Patrons of the Santa Ana post office, complying with the request that packages be securely wrapped and plainly addressed, have done much to expedite consignments, postal workers said. On their part, the customers of Uncle Sam's big establishment, were a unit in declaring that the service here had been 100 percent. There were few delays in the line.

Expects 'Y' man to Visit Friends Here

According to an announcement made today by R. C. Smedley, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, E. L. Mogge, who conducted the first fund drive of the "Y" building campaign here more than a year ago, is in Long Beach. Mogge is conducting a drive in that city for a $500,000 building fund for the Y. W. C. A. He will be occupied in the beach city for several more days, after which he will go to Chicago. Mogge no doubt will visit friends in this city before leaving for the East, Smedley said.

KIWANIS MEET FEATURED BY
'OPERATION'

Relieved of his malady of "auto-mobility" by a successful operation performed by surgeons in the presence of members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting at St. Ann's Inn yesterday, W. L. Duggan today was plying his usual vocation with greater energy than ever. The surgical operation was performed by Drs. R. A. Cushman MacVicker Smith and F. E. Coulter, and, among other things, it revealed a flashlight parlorium from President O. H. Barr at a recent meeting of the club subsequent to its presentation to the president as an attendance prize.

It was "Smith day" with the club, with Dr. Smith, F. T. Smith and S. W. Sutton in charge of the program. Dr. Smith presided. F. P. Cruice, assistant general freight agent of the Santa Fe, was the speaker, not because of the time consumed in the "operation stunt" on the program he curtailed his remarks to a brief discussion of railroads. He stressed the relationship of the officials with the employees and the effort of the combined organization to give the public the transportation service it demands.

Pointing out that the national laws regulating railroads permit the corporations to earn up to 6 per cent on their investments, the speaker declared that no road had earned that interest rate. He declared that Class 1 roads had earned in 1922 an average of 3 per cent, with his company's profits permitting a return of 4½ per cent. He said that he called attention to this fact because of an impression with the general public that the law guaranteed the railroads a return of 6 per cent. He pointed out that taxes on Santa Fe property in 1915 were $5,500,000, while in 1922 they were $18,400,000. The railroad man disclosed that the number of holders of stock in the Santa Fe were about equal.

It was announced that next Thursday the Anaheim club will meet with the local club, because the meeting date of the former organization falls on Christmas. Members of each club attending will be expected to bring a small present. Thursday evening the local club will install its new officers, with a dinner, program, and dance, at which women will be present. Members of the Anaheim club also will be present.

WALL ST. PLOT IN OIL LEASE UNDER PROBE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The senate inquiry into the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve was halted today by the failure of the United States marshal in New York to obtain service of the investigating committee's subpoena on Jesse Livermore, stock broker, whose testimony was desired in connection with charges that huge transactions in the stock of the Mammoth Oil company, a Sinclair subsidiary and owner of the lease, occurred in Wall street just prior to public announcement of the making of the lease.

Livermore, New York stock broker, was under subpoena to testify to the committee concerning what he knew of the sensational rise in the stock before knowledge of the valuable lease was made public.

C. A. Biggeman, assistant cashier of the Chase National bank, of New York, and Walter W. Downing, of the Chase Securities corporation, which handled the marketing of Mammoth stock, were ready to appear but were excused on condition that their counsel who asked their release produce them in twenty-four hours' notice.

FORD'S MOVE WINS APPROVAL OF WIFE

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Henry Ford, by announcing he is for President Coolidge for president and apparently out of the presidential race himself, has evidently made Mrs. Ford a Christmas gift that is more than pleasing. "I know it is best. I am glad," she said when informed here of the announcement of her husband. Then she revealed that Ford had thought of the matter seriously, for she said:

"We talked it over many times."

Mrs. Ford, who was en route to Troy to attend a Christmas celebration at the college her niece is attending, left today for New York. But before she left she said she, too, is a supporter of President Coolidge and added she didn't believe Ford ever intended to become a candidate.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SALE DRIVE GAINS

Mrs. John Clarkson, secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, today announced that Christmas seals may be purchased at the following drug stores in the city: The White Cross, Mateer's, Parsons' and Kelley's. Seals may also be obtained by calling upon Mrs. Clarkson, 810 Minter street, or telephoning to her.

Mrs. Clarkson states that the returns are gratifying, but that many seals are being returned by persons to whom they were sent with the request that they either be retained or money for them be sent.

"Those buying the little stickers do fine Christmas aims, in that they are assisting in the great fight being made against tuberculosis, and making someone happy by placing at his disposal the means for regaining health through the wonderful work of rehabilitation being done throughout the state," declared Mrs. Olive Lopez, in charge of Christmas Seal publicity here.

"There is no one who could not spare at least one dollar to purchase health for an afflicted fellow being. Many persons are giving freely of their time and money in the campaign for the sale of the Christmas seals, which sell for one penny each."

BISBY TELLS IDEA

Community Needs More Accommodation For Residents Here

Another idea along the lines of future development of Santa Ana's business district has been suggested by R. L. Bisby, of the Spurgeon Realty company one of the best known realtors of the county. He suggested that while the building program of Santa Ana is outlined to prepare for the future and to supply the need for office space that one of Santa Ana's vital needs is more apartment. He said "Why not take some of the future buildings of the business district and plan the upper stories for apartments?"

"This city still needs apartments. This need is especially felt at this season when the winter tourist comes to Southern California better known among the eastern travelers and every year sees more of them visiting this county.
They come here with open minds, ready to be convinced of the truth that this is the ideal spot in which to spend the remainder of their days. If they are well cared for, and by that I mean if they find adequate housing conditions, a large percentage of these visitors will remain."

"At present there are several comfortable apartment and flat buildings in the city but these buildings do not supply the ever increasing demand for apartments.
Apartments in the downtown section would, I believe, find ready favor among not only the temporary visitor but among the people already living here."

"Utilization of upper stories of business houses in the downtown district would not mean that these upper stories could never be turned into merchandising space if necessity demanded it. The change from an apartment building into a merchandising building could be made just as easy as an office building can be converted into merchandise space."

"Santa Ana should build in the air for the future; or build struc-

New Subdivision Will Be Scene of Building Activity

Considerable building activity may be expected immediately at Midway City, the new subdivision at the junction of Huntington Beach and Santa Ana boulevards, according to the promoters. They report construction on three buildings is to start at once—two bungalows and a business structure.

Arthur E. Dike, one of the owners, said that many prospective investors and builders are reporting from Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and other Orange county towns. He said this indicates the value placed upon this location by those in the best position to know.

"Over $20,000 worth of lots have been sold," said Dike. "Considering the small amount of advertising we have done in comparison with what is usually expended on similar projects, and that the tract has only been open about a week, this is not so bad. We have many dozens of prospects who are in the stage of consideration, many of whom will undoubtedly become buyers."

REALTOR SAYS COUNTY MUST BOOST FARM

White Says Huge Crop Must Be Produced In Southern Section

Pointing out, at the farm lands conference of the eighth regional district of the California Real Estate association at Riverside last Saturday, that food stuffs must be provided for 3,000,000 meals each day in Los Angeles alone, Everett A. White, of Santa Ana, presiding at the conference as vice-president of the state organization, declared that unless the agricultural resources of the back country keep pace with development and growth of Southern California cities, a serious problem will develop.

Stressing the point of a big market for produce in the southland, White said that millions of dollars are being paid for farm products imported into the state that should be grown in the state.

"We must seek industrious people to locate in the farm land sections," said the Santa Ana realtor.
"Some are here already and hundreds and thousands in other sections want to come."

this community. A policy such as was tentatively outlined by the directors at the time of starting application for such a measure will also tend to relieve the present pressure of work now resting on the secretary and the manufacturing and industrial committee of the chamber.

The secretary and members of the committee were instructed to meet and prepare a definite policy to be followed by the chamber in any future attempts to locate industries here. As a part of the policy it was tentatively suggested that any individual, firm, or corporation seeking to locate a manufacturing plant in Santa Ana must be in possession of at least fifty per cent of the capital required to establish a plant here before the endorsement of the chamber of commerce will be given.

This will serve as protection to the people of the city, Metzgar pointed out, from the promoters who seek to establish a business in the city and want all finances for its establishment to be provided by the people of this community. He said that he and the industrial committee daily received such propositions and generally turn them down without placing the propositions before the directors. He said that under this policy, if it is adopted, a questionnaire will be provided and the answering of the questions on the blank will be required before any industrial proposition will be considered. This will minimize the investigation work required of the industrial committee, Metzgar said.

It is more than a possibility that the chamber of commerce will also take steps, within a few months, to reserve a tract of land near this city where industries may be located.

The securing of land for this purpose is only a matter of discussion at present, no certain tract has even been discussed but the advisability of such action is being considered it was said this morning. The fact that such consideration is being given industrial matters by the directorate of the organization is lending color to the statement that the chamber of commerce has pushed industrial development of this city to the top of the 1924 program is the belief of Mr. Metzgar.

tures of such foundation that addition may be mad to them as necessity demands. Santa Ana always has been and, I believe will continue to be, one of the fastest growing communities in the southwest. This growth is not of the mushroom variety either. It is the firm substantial growth that will continue despite depressions in other sections of the country.

"Several buildings that I know have been planned as a part of the 1924 building program for this city include office space in their plans. This phase of development is adequately cared for at present. That is the reason that I would suggest the utilization of this air space for the providing of homes for our people and for the strangers within our gates."

"The hotels and apartments already in operation here are doing their best to care for the people coming to this city but what the city needs are more apartments. More two and three room apartments in the downtown section, handy to business and shopping centers, would not only be good sound investments but would be a boon to the people of the city."

This will serve as protection to the people of the city, Metzgar pointed out, from the promoters who seek to establish a business in the city and want all finances for its establishment to be provided by the people of this community. He said that he and the industrial committee daily received such propositions and generally turn them down without placing the propositions before the directors. He said that under this policy, if it is adopted, a questionnaire will be provided and the answering of the questions on the blank will be required before any industrial proposition will be considered. Paving of Fairview from Main to Flower streets has just been completed, it was pointed out.

The piece of ground has been in the Palmer family almost since the founding of Santa Ana, it was pointed out here today, and at one time was a part of the original tract owned by the late Noah Palmer, early day banker and founder of the Commercial bank, absorbed here some years ago by the Farmers and Merchants National bank. The latter was more recently merged with the First National bank.

South Sycamore, Broadway, Birch and Van Ness streets are in what was the original Palmer holdings, it is said.

Reverse Christmas
For Costa Mesa Man;
Bag Burns, Coin Gone

COSTA MESA, Dec. 20.—Harry King of the Wayside Market believes he has a jinx. At any rate he will get a left-handed Christmas present this year.

Harry put the proceeds of his Saturday business in a paper sack over Sunday. He was burning the trash from the store Monday and with the papers he tossed his roll.

When he discovered his missing wad he found that $102 in checks and currency was but a memory and that $42.00 in silver had become a misshapen mass. The tank is trying to secure a redemption of the silver.

Harry has forsaken the paper bag for a canvas one, which he will henceforth tie around his waist until he can bank his proceeds.

Arnold Peek Buys
Hurwitz Property

Arnold Peek, proprietor of the Fourth street market, corner of Fourth street and Broadway, today had completed negotiations for purchase from Sam Hurwitz of the business property at 422 West Fourth street, occupied by the D. A. Dale hardware store.

The consideration is reported to have been $57,000, or a little more than $1000 per front foot, the lot having a frontage of 50 feet. A one story brick building stands on the lot.

The transaction was negotiated by Walter F. Gustin, with the Santa Ana office of C. B. Berger and company.

Stating that he made the purchase as investment Peek said today that he did not contemplate moving his market to his property. Pointing out that he had a two or three year lease on his present location, he said that should conditions at some future date warrant he might locate his market on his own property.

Death Toll in Doubt
In Earthquake Zone

BOGOTA, Colombia, Dec. 20.—Police have restored order in the earthquake zone and are supervising relief for 100 families who are among the greatest sufferers, an official communication said today. Provincial Governor Arino has assumed charge of relief work.

The total number of dead and injured, it was indicated, probably never will be known because of the remoteness of the territory and lack of communications and statistical sources.

PENNANT CAFE OWNERS PLAN TO ENLARGE

Announcement today that the Chaffee store at 313 North Main street next week will move to 415 West Fourth street, the room recently vacated by Ward Sutton, Firestone tire agent, revealed that Otto P. and Neil P. Peterson, proprietors of the Pennant cafe, have developed plans for locating a popular-priced modern restaurant plant in the room to be vacated by Chaffee.

According to a statement today by Otto Petersen, he and his brother will spend $10,000 in providing new equipment and the addition of special features for their new place.

Pointing out that the brothers have had the lease on the Odd Fellow building store room since October 1, Petersen said that all fixtures and equipment had been ordered and were ready for installation. He said the new place would be opened about January 20.

Stating that the new equipment would include a modern cold storage plant, Petersen said that his brother is operating a five acre ranch at Fairview upon which will be produced all the fresh vegetables, eggs and chickens supplied the restaurant.

A commodious rest room will be among the special features to be introduced at the restaurant, under the enlargement plans. The Pennant Cafe will vacate its present quarters at 305 North Main street, Petersen said.

Whittier Boy Won't Kill Any More Seals

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 20.—Shooting seals as holiday sport was the belief of L. G. Snyder, a Whittier young man, who was arrested today on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Snyder, who gave his address as 221 South Greenleaf Ave., Whittier, heard that shooting seals was great sport and that Newport Beach was the best place to find the sea lions. So the young man purchased a fine new Colt pistol and a beautiful leather holster, climbed in his car and came to Newport.

When Marshal J. A. Porter heard the pistol shots almost under the windows of the city hall he started to investigate. Snyder was haled before Police Judge Byron Hall and his artillery confiscated.

TEACHERS TAKE EXAMINATIONS MONDAY

Calling attention to the fact that thirty applications have been returned by the state board of education, and pointing out that applicants for life diplomas must give evidence of having completed a course in the constitution of the United States, or else take an examination therein, R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, today announced that the county board of education will conduct such examinations at the Frances Willard junior high school next Monday at 9 a.m. All teachers involved were requested to attend.

Recent instructions received from Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction, contain additional information concerning the matter of life diplomas and renewal of certificates said Superintendent Mitchell. "Of the thirty applications returned some were administrators and at least one is a teacher in a junior college. The issue involves about 400 teachers in the county."

In order to clear up any possible misunderstanding Superintendent Wood requested an opinion from the attorney general. Replying, the attorney general said:

"You have asked the following questions: First, does this statute apply to those who at the time it went into effect held life diplomas? Second, does it apply to renewals of certificates as well as to the original granting thereof? Third, does the expression in Section 3 'all persons granted regular certificates,' etc., suggest a distinction between the holder of a 'regular' certificate and the holder of a 'special' certificate."

"Answering your first question, life diplomas are referred to in Section 1696 and in Section 1503, Subdivision 3, of the political code. I am of the opinion that the phraseology of the 1923 statute shows an intention to make it applicable to rights thereafter acquired by teachers.

"This construction does not require any such examination of holders of life diplomas.

"Answering your second question, Section 1771 of the political code, Subdivision 3, provides that county boards of education shall have power to grant, in accordance with Sections 1772 and 1775, certain designed certificates renewable at the option of the board. Subdivision 4 refers to the renewing of certificates. We here see a distinction made in the state between the granting and the renewing of certificates.

"In my judgment, however a liberal construction of the 1923 statute so as to effect the purposes thereof would require the same training in the matter of familiarity with the United States constitution in the case of a renewal of the certificate as is required in the original granting of the same."

"Answering your third question, I am of the opinion that the use of the word 'regular' in Section 3 of the recent statute providing that all persons granted 'regular' certificates shall be required to pass the said examination, etc., indicates a distinction between such a certificate and a special certificate.

"From this opinion, you will see:

"1. That applicants for life diplomas, if they have filed their application after August 17, must give evidence of having completed a course in the constitution of the United States or else take an examination therein.

"2. That renewals are subject to the same conditions.

"3. That certificates granted on certificates of another county are likewise subject to these conditions.

"4. That special certificates are not subject to this requirement."

FIGHT TO VOID FATAL LIQUOR CASES HERE

Frank A. Gilroy, his co-defendant, having won release on habeas corpus proceedings, A. P. Monahan of Huntington Beach today was preparing to make his own fight for liberty and dismissal of a manslaughter charge against him.

Argument on a demurrer by Monahan's attorney, Thomas L. McFadden of Anaheim, to the manslaughter charge was scheduled to be heard by Superior Judge F. C. Drumm here Friday, at 9:30 a.m. McFadden was expected to attack the legality of the proceedings against his client. Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley was preparing to defend the prosecution's "information" against Monahan, who is accused of selling liquor that was held responsible for the death of Joe Conroy of Huntington Park recently.

Gilroy died in an automobile near Westminster after imbibing a quantity of liquor alleged to have been purchased from Monahan, at Huntington Beach and Gilroy, in Los Angeles. His companion, Targer Anderson, told of the purchases and identified Monahan as one of the asserted bootleggers from whom the liquor was purchased. Joe Rowan, another companion, pointed out Gilroy as the other asserted bootlegger.

Gilroy and Monahan both were ordered held to trial at their preliminary hearing a few days ago.

Attorney Joseph Pacht of Los Angeles secured the release of Gilroy Tuesday on habeas corpus proceedings, arguing insufficiency of evidence to justify the holding of his client and, also, the lack of jurisdiction by an Orange county court. The evidence showed that the liquor claimed to have been purchased from Gilroy was purchased in Los Angeles and was consumed in Los Angeles county before the Conroy party reached Orange county, Pacht argued.

RESPECT JUDGE COX, BUT SPEEDERS VENT PROTESTS

Life In Smelly Tank at Yule Season Distasteful to Violators; Too Fast Speed Admitted, But Highways Held Clear; Motor Cops Scored

BY TOM LEWIS

Whether speeders are willing to admit it or not, the name of one John B. Cox is going to have a lot to do with this business of creating a wholesome respect for the law of the land. Law in this particular case has reference to the regulation of the speed of automobiles.

Before proceeding this much may be said with certainty: If the lady or gent who just can't resist the temptation to speed the old boat along over Orange county's excellent highway system will visit Mr. Sam Jernigan's hotel, the chances are about 100 to 1 that said lady or gent will undergo a sudden change of heart concerning this favorite outdoor sport of stepping on the pedal that animates the gas.

Jam in Prospect. Yes, Mr. Jernigan's hotel, an unpretentious red building on Sycamore street, is crowded—and that isn't all. It's going to be jammed if Justice Cox has his way—and indications are that the judge will prevail. And it's not so very pleasant to be squeezed into a smelly little tank in the county jail at Christmas-time, with scarcely enough room to stand up, let alone to sit down.

Let's look in here, a moment, on these unhappy men occupying space in Tank No. 2, commonly called the Federal tank. Quite a few of these men came in as a result of His Honor's latest war on speeders. They range anywhere from 17 to 45 in age and, according to ferret-eyed speed officers, were traveling anywhere from 41 to 51 miles an hour when captured. Danger is Cited. Thus taking a chance on killing themselves and endangering the lives of others," according to Justice Cox.

"I was only going forty-five miles an hour," said one, when a reporter asked him for the inside facts concerning his particular case. "And the road was clear as far as you could see. Why should they throw me in jail for that?" Another said:

"The motor cop swore I was making fifty-one miles an hour. How could I—with that small car? Why, the manufacturers probably would give me a medal if they knew I could get fifty-one out of that little tin-pot."

And this, from a 17-year-old boy, charged with burning it off at the rate of fifty-one miles an hour:

Dear Essential.

"I don't know how fast I was going, but the cop said fifty-one. Yes, I was pinched once before—in Long Beach. But the cop who pulled me in got fired for it."

Now, the truth is, as Justice Cox said, "knocking it off pretty smoothly," denied he was traveling fifty-one miles an hour, maintaining his car could not make any such speed. Clear Road Excuse.

"It was an open country," he said, "and I saw no reason why I should not step along a little with perfect safety."

According to M. Harris, a Los Angeles bond salesman and auditor, Justice Cox does not give prisoners a "square deal."

"He throws a man in jail without giving him a chance," Harris declared, although admitting that his car was traveling "perhaps forty-five miles an hour."

"But the road was clear," he demurred, "and we often do that in Los Angeles county. Believe me, that's going to give Orange county a black eye, and people will not come back here. I know I won't."

Which, incidentally, seemed to be the feeling of Alfred Koch, a 17-year-old boy of Long Beach who, according to the arresting officer, was "making a Harley-Davidson sing a song" when he was captured.

"I've got all I want of Judge Cox, and Orange county, and motorcycles," the youth said, explaining that he "owned a flivver, but borrowed the motorcycle." "I hope I never see a motorcycle again."

Some Are Silent.

Several other Los Angeles speeders, sitting in the tank, staring gloomily, or nervously pacing the metal floor, maintained a moody silence when asked their opinion of the Orange county legal machine which landed them in jail.

Confronted by the certainty that they must face the "kangaroo court" late in the afternoon, they eyed their companions with every evidence of suspicion, looking forward with uneasiness to five nights they must spend in the tank, and "herded together like cattle," as one prisoner phrased it.

As far as the jail officials are concerned, however, every prisoner receives the best possible treatment, despite the fact that the little jail is badly crowded; and not a single prisoner had a word of complaint to offer regarding their keepers.

But concerning Justice Cox and his heart of stone," as one of the older speeders put it, the victims of the motorcycle squad were not quite so reticent. None was heard to call the well-known justice "a darling and a dear."

Japanese Is Sought As Check Case Man

Search was being made today for M. Nakano, Japanese resident of El Modena, who was wanted by county authorities here on a warrant charging him with issuing worthless checks.

A complaint sworn to late yesterday by M. Taneguski, of El Modena, was based upon an alleged check for $38, which he claimed to have received from Nakano.

Taneguski also exhibited seven other alleged worthless checks, ranging as high as $84.50, which he said Nakano issued to him.

Richardson Opposes Wholesale Pardons

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20.—"I won't grant any wholesale pardons."

This is Governor Richardson's answer to the plea of the General Defense committee that ninety-seven "union men" now in California prisons be freed by Christmas.

The Governor added, however, that this statement does not bar the individual prisoners from making application for pardons "as prescribed by law."

CHINESE CABINET QUIT.

PEKIN, China, Dec. 20.—The Chinese cabinet resigned en bloc today because it was continually harassed by members of parliament and prevented from reaching a settlement regarding the gold franc debt to France, which was incurred at the time of the 1901 Boxer rebellion.

TEXAS TEAM LATEST SENSATION OF GRID

Centre's Praying Colonels Have New Rival In Men From Tiny College

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 20.—Remember Centre College, and the great rise of the Prayin' Colonels of that school on the gridiron?

Get ready for the coming of the next greatest eleven.

Six years ago Southern Methodist University of Dallas was regarded as too small and too inferior to be given a place in the Southwestern Conference.

In 1918 the school finally gained entrance to that circle, the elite in football in the southwest. It struggled along until late in the season of 1922 before it won a conference game.

This year it is the champion of the southwest, having gone through nine games without being tied or defeated and having been scored against only twice.

The Mustangs, as the S. M. U. players are billed, played a tougher schedule than any team in the conference. Texas is the only other unbeaten school, but the Dallas team has first claim to the championship by virtue of five conference victories against two and one tie by Texas.

The State University Longhorns only got a tie with Baylor, while S. M. U. wound up its schedule Thanksgiving Day with a surprising 16 to 0 victory over the 1922 champion Baylor Bears, who outweighed them 17 pounds to the man.

INDIAN GRID TEAM DUE IN SOUTHLAND

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 20.—Twenty-three Indian boys from Kansas, comprising the Haskell football squad, were to arrive here today, in advance of their game in Los Angeles Christmas against the Olympic club, of San Francisco.

Coach Dick Hanley, after depositing his charges at Sherman Institute, where brother redmen will entertain them until the day before the game, will go on in to Los Angeles today to look over Washington Park, where the game will be played, and make other necessary arrangements.

The Indians are expected to take their first workout under California skies this afternoon. They will mix with their own scrubs, as well as use some of the tough little players at Sherman. Daily periods on the field will be the rule every day preceding the Christmas contest.

500 Pasteboards For Big Christmas Fray at Poly Field Available Here

Five hundred reserved seats for the Frosh All-Star-Santa Ana American Legion football game at Poly field here Christmas day went on sale today at three local business houses.

The tickets were available at Livesey's, 216 East Fourth street; the Alexandria billiard hall, 416 North Main street, and the Victor Walker Sporting Goods store, 205 West Fourth street.

The reserved seats are located in the center of the largest bleachers at the high school turf and since a "packed house" is predicted for the fracas next Tuesday, local Legion athletic committees urged football followers to buy their supply early if they expected to see the fuss from the best possible place.

The Legion eleven plans to hold a vigorous workout tomorrow and Saturday in preparation for the grueling struggle with the aggregation of stars from the University of Southern California.

Ed Covington, head coach at Poly, and his assistant, "Big Bill" Cole, have charge of the Legionnaires. They are working on a fast and open offensive and they figure they have a splendid chance of turning back "Bullet" Baker and his cohorts.

Washington Alumni to Entertain Grid Team

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Plans will be formulated for a reception to the University of Washington football team which meets the Naval Academy eleven at Pasadena on New Year's day, when Washington alumni and former Washington students meet at a luncheon at the University club of Los Angeles Saturday.

Tentative plans include a reception and rally on the night before the game, or a dinner-dance the night after the game. Guests of honor will be President Henry Suzzallo, the Washington team, Coach Bagshaw and Graduate Manager Darwin Mesinet.

It's Cornell's own business what kind of a schedule is arranged for the team, and as long as some of the more formidable teams of the east refuse to schedule games with Cornell on a "home-and-home" basis the right for Cornell to choose its own way through a season cannot be denied.

For the same reason, however, the right of critics to pass opinions on a team that rushes to the heights over a flock of set-ups cannot be denied.

Cornell could have forced the critics to swallow the raps about the sissy schedule if Cornell had

walloped the rather weak Pennsylvania team in the last game of the season, but when Cornell was able to beat Penn by only one touchdown, the question arose: "What would have happened had Cornell played one good team?"

Yale is not only the best team of the east, but one of the best in the whole country.

Yale beat more better teams than Cornell did. Cornell's schedule was, and has been for several years, a joke for a team that has been considered one of the best for several years.

Yale is not only the best team of the east, but one of the best in the whole country.

Yale beat more better teams than Cornell did. Cornell's schedule was, and has been for several years, a joke for a team that has been considered one of the best for several years.

It's Cornell's own business what kind of a schedule is arranged for the team, and as long as some of the more formidable teams of the east refuse to schedule games with Cornell on a "home-and-home" basis the right for Cornell to choose its own way through a season cannot be denied.

For the same reason, however, the right of critics to pass opinions on a team that rushes to the heights over a flock of set-ups cannot be denied.

Cornell could have forced the critics to swallow the raps about the sissy schedule if Cornell had

Marion Davies' Latest Starring Production Opens Six Day Run at Temple Tomorrow

One of the most spectacular scenes ever filmed in motion pictures is the big mob scene in the picture, "Little Old New York," starring Marion Davies, which opens at the Temple theater tonight for a six-day engagement. Miss Davies, swing on the shoulder of big Louis Wolheim, is rushed through a mob of a thousand howling men to the whipping-post to receive the punishment which the crowd demands because she rang the firebell and stopped the prize-fight.

The scene occurs in the streets surrounding Bowery Green and the Battery of New York as they appeared a century ago. Over six thousand feet of floor space was covered by the pounding feet of the mob and forty-five immense sunlight arc lights shot down a brilliance which rivaled the sun and made it appear as though it were really out doors. Director Sidney Olcott and his assistant, Saul Harrison, shouted themselves hoarse directing the great mob which followed Wolheim down the streets. The slender little figure of Miss Davies, perched on the shoulder of Wolheim as she is hurried to her doom is silhouetted against the sky above the heads of the crowds.

Cameramen cranked madly as the mob swirled around the platform upon which the whipping-post was stationed. The cruel, avenging faces of the mob; the huge, brutal appearance of Wolheim as contrasted with the fair, fragile delicacy of Miss Davies as she is lashed to the whipping-post—all combine to make of the scene a most thrilling one. Refusing to employ a "double," Miss Davies insisted on taking the lashes inflicted by the cruel whip herself. The star insisted it would make the picture much better if she took the lashing herself. As a result the beautiful shoulders which have been painted by some of the most famous artists in the land, still bear the marks of the cruel black-snake whip. Although Wolheim tried to lay on the lashes as lightly as he could and still register the proper effect it was impossible to spare the dainty little star entirely.

"THE LONE STAR RANGER" AT WEST END TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—A $2,000,000 appropriation was asked of congress today for the erection of a new federal building in Oakland, Calif. The request was sponsored in a bill by Senator Shortridge Republican, of California.

"THE LONE STAR RANGER" AT WEST END TOMORROW

A combination of actor and author that should attract the attention of the most fastidious of motion picture followers and provide a distinct treat as an entertainment comes to the West End theater tomorrow, with Tom Mix, the William Fox star and Zane Grey, the noted American fiction writer.

The screen offering is "The Lone Star Ranger" with the "Sadie Monarch in the title role. The story is an adaptation of Grey's famous book, which, according to its publishers, has been read by more than five million people in the few years since its appearance on the literary market.

With Mix, Lambert Hillyer, the director, has accomplished new heights in the fields of romance. He has assembled a talented cast. Miss Billie Dove, the beautiful Ziegfeld Folies dancer, plays the feminine lead. Others are L. C. Shumway, Stanton Heck, Ed Peil, Frank Clark, William Conklin, Minna Redman, Tom Lingham and Francis Carpenter.

The production was staged in the heart of Texas.

"GOING UP" CLOSES AT WEST END TONIGHT

The couple in "Temporary Marriage," which closes tonight at the Yost are over forty. The husband is regarded by his wife as a "slowpoke"—a man without a vestige of romance in his make-up. The wife would keep up with youth. She takes beauty treatment—she dances, she craves affection, the sweet flattery of youth. And divorce is scheduled. Then something tragic happens which spoils her pretty scheme. What is it? Is she brought back to her senses? Does she reflect that her station in life is to accept the inevitable and leave the ways of youth to young men and women? What about it?

What you will see is vivid, stark drama which pulsates with deep dramatic chords, which surges forward carrying the spectator in a deep embrace of suspense, which thrusts its characters in a vital drama which teaches the spectator a lesson.

How to Remove Tobacco Stains from Teeth In Just Three Minutes

Thousands of people now use a marvelous new treatment to remove tobacco and other stains from their teeth. This wonderful scientific discovery, called Bleachoid Combination, bleaches even the darkest teeth with three minutes exposure, leaving amazingly clean and lustrous. The very first application brings really wonderful results. It consists of a mild, safe lotion with special kind of paste. The liquid immediately curdles and softens all stains while the paste gently removes them, and if used daily prevents the formation of future stains. Bleachoid Combination is fine for children's teeth. Those "candy stains" and "green spots" disappear away quickly and safely. Canine teeth are named after its main ingredients act only on surface stains—not on enamel itself.

Note: Do not expect Bleachoid Combination to whiten teeth darkened by a silver stain, as this discolored goes below the surface of the enamel, and while the mild action of Bleachoid Combination will remove it, it will not yellow stained teeth; it cannot be expected to remove stains which are part of the enamel itself, as it has no effect on the enamel in any way.

ADD NEW ISSUE TO ELECTION AT ORANGE

City Council Votes to Include Question on Comfort Station

ORANGE, Dec. 20.—The city council, recognizing the imperative need for a modern comfort station at a centralized point in Orange, has decided to include that item on the ballot in the forthcoming municipal water bond election.

Although the two issues will be contained on the same ballot, as a step to save expenses of two elections, voters will be able to vote separately on the two propositions.

The municipal water bonds, covering enlargements to the city water works, needed on account of the remarkable growth of the city, will total $40,000, it was estimated, while the bonds for a modern comfort station will aggregate about $12,000, it was declared, making a total of $52,000 involved in the dual election.

According to city authorities, an underground comfort station with restrooms and information bureau above is proposed as the most desirable project to meet demands along this line.

Constructed in the plaza, the combined comfort station and restroom building would be erected along such architectural lines as to add to the beauties of the city park. Being centrally located, it was pointed out, the municipal structure would be readily visible to visitors, who on past occasions, particularly during Armistice day celebration, found complaint in existing facilities along these lines.

With Orange now working on a plan to hold state picnics in the plaza throughout the summer months, bringing hundreds of visitors into the city, the need for an institution of this sort, centrally located where it can be found without the need of embarrassing queries, is magnified, the city council indicated during a discussion of the project yesterday afternoon.

Fred A. Grote, representing the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, appeared before the council urging that the proposition be included on the water bond ballot.

While the election will necessarily be delayed about two weeks as a result, the city board granted the request, announcing that the dual election would probably be held about January 20, next year.

"Beyond the bounds of the old West lie the Oriental and other trans-Pacific countries, the department says. "There the great stretches of the East, from Bering to the Indian ocean, have become the modern West for the American business man."

The trans-Pacific countries claim about one-fifth of America's total trade now, and the business is growing.

"In no quarter of the world is there larger opportunity for the application of America's business energy and acumen than in the trade of the trans-Pacific countries."

EVENING SALUTATION
A STUBBORN MIND conduced as little to wisdom or even to knowledge as a stubborn temper to happiness.—Southey.

PENITENCE PREREQUISITE

In a report made by the Los Angeles Crime Commission there is extended reference to the Klett fraud charges. In these cases, the four defendants actually for many months made vigorous efforts to escape punishment, resisting extradition and interposing every possible effort in legal procedure against facing their accusers. When actually arraigned in court, however, they pleaded guilty, and asked for probation. This probation was denied, and they then were given penitentiary sentences. Evidently, thereupon, regretting their pleas, they renewed the technical fight, and finally succeeded in obtaining, by what means is not known, such a second thought clemency that probation was granted to one of the defendants for three years.

We heartily concur in the opinion expressed by the Fresno Republican, to the effect that in all cases probation should come only in cases where there is a due "conviction of sin". There should be no such thing as probation for the impudent. The innocent should escape the infliction of the law only for the public interest, and the public interest cannot be considered except with penitence as a first ingredient of the judgment.

The Republican thinks (and we agree) "that an impartial, scientific analysis of the workings of the courts will be of value to the public in strengthening the proper functioning of the courts. We have no respect for making the operations of the 'judicial' mind a deep, dark mystery, any more than we favor the opposite evil, that of bringing public pressure to bear for or against defendants in particular cases. Every individual accused has a right to an impartial and impartial treatment. But the class of 'crime' as such, has not right to impersonal or impartial consideration. We are not neutral toward crime. We are against it."

HOLIDAY LIQUOR

"U. S. Agents Raid to Dam Holiday Flow of Liquor" reads a New York headline.

"Christmas Spirit Makes Rum Fleet Biggest on Record" reads another.

All accounts show that both the rum smugglers who work by sea and the less pretentious bootleggers who work by land are well stocked with their illicit liquor, and scent an opportunity to make a big haul during the holiday season.

Every reader is free to decide for himself how much alcohol has to do with the "Christmas spirit". Historically and traditionally, the American Christmas has never been considered particularly an alcoholic festival.

To the usual considerations of morals and domestic happiness is added the very practical consideration that most of the domestic liquor now sold in this country is straight poison, and the imported stuff is little better. The authorities do well, in every flooded community, to reduce the flood to the lowest possible level.

STARVING PASSION PLAYERS

One of the many little chores turned over to America by distressed Europe is the preservation of the famous Oberammergau Passion Play. The players have come over themselves to put their case to the American public.

Their village, they explain, will starve this winter unless relief comes. If Oberammergau starves to death, naturally there will be no more Passion Play.

That quaint drama has long been the chief source of support for the village, because of the tourist trade it brought. But Oberammergau has steadfastly refused to capitalize the sacred play itself. It has turned down as "sacrilege" an offer of more than $1,000,000 to stage a performance for an American moving picture firm.

It is not exactly an appeal for alms. The players bring carvings, toys and potteries to sell. After their village needs have been cared for, the balance, if there is any, will go to relieve suffering elsewhere in Bavaria. They should not go home empty-handed.

GOVERNMENT AVIATION

The public will doubtless agree with President Coolidge as to the importance of "providing for continued development of military and naval aviation if America is to keep abreast of other nations." His communication to Congress on this subject endorses the recommendations of the national advisory committee of aeronautics regarding continued scientific research work and the establishment of a bureau of civil aeronautics in the department of commerce.

The government is expected to lead in aviation development, including both scientific inquiry and the production of practical flying machines of the best types for war and peace. It is expected also to maintain military flying equipment sufficient to safeguard the country in emergency, and serve as "eyes" for the army and navy. The public warns to proposals of this sort, whereas appeals for warships leave it cold. This is due not only to the natural interest of intelligent people in the marvelous art of flying, but to a deep-seated conviction that warships are not going to be of much more use in the world.

While war survives, we must have warplanes. Eventually there will have to be conferences to limit them, too, for the sake of peace.

HERE, THE PHONOFILM

Much as he may dislike such terms as "talkie" and "phonofilm", one is forced to admit that the device represented by those names undoubtedly has a useful purpose.

At a recent showing of such a film before representatives of the press, scientists and a few invited guests, the first picture was of a man talking. As his lips moved, the audience heard him speak. He explained briefly how the device works. The next picture showed four banjo players, and the audience heard as well as saw them. The third picture, said to be the most remarkable of the three, was a dancer, going through her graceful measures in perfect time with the phonofilm music. It is said that music and dancer combined make an infinitely more realistic production than would a silent film with an orchestra accompaniment.

The device is far from perfect as yet. But it is proved that it does work. The metallic harshness of the speaking voices will be eliminated soon, undoubtedly. That is merely a matter of mechanical improvement.

Later on we will have the device used to heighten the effect of all the action of the picture.

The whole thing is said to be remarkably simple, both in the original taking and in the reproducing. Perfected, its value will be tremendous. As the movie has penetrated to remote and isolated regions where a great actor could not ordinarily go in person, so the phonofilm will do. And isolation, already lessened because of movie, airplane and radio, will become very nearly obsolete.

CHANGES IN METHODS

Better and saner methods of developing good American citizens from the mass of aliens who have settled within our borders are taking the place of former tactics. Says one leader in such work:

"We are trying to avoid the word 'Americanization' as much as possible in our field work. We don't wish to give foreigners the idea that we are pressing forcibly a new set of ideals and ideas down their throats.

"Americanization should be a gradual education, natural and progressive, to full citizenship."

Among the plans of the numerous organizations interested in this movement is "co-operation with foreign language newspapers". Scorned and feared during the World War, many of the alien publications have since won through to the respect and good will of Americans. Now, through these papers, it is possible to reach the interest of the foreign population more quickly. With the foreign language papers for allies, social workers and civic organizations can get better results from their localized teaching and field work.

Northam Crossing

Anaheim Bulletin

Greater and greater is the measure of safety to be had in travel on steam and electric railroads. There has been very gratifying advancement, in the last few years, in safety appliances which really are meritorious. The number of rail collisions is small now, compared with a few years ago. The number of fatalities in railroading steadily grows less.

An important advance in railroad safety seems to have been made by the Rock Island railroad. The big system has installed on its lines from Chicago to Rock Island, a new safety device which will stop automatically a speeding train against which a block has been set, even though the engineer may not be in the cab. Railroad experts claim that this Regan device makes the operation of trains 100 per cent safe from collisions.

Progress toward safety in transportation is an evolution to be welcomed. Railroading, once quite hazardous both for employees and for those who travel by rail, has been rendered so safe that loss of life is much smaller than formerly, even though the number of persons employed in railroading and the number of passengers carried show enormous increase.

It might be well if the railroads entering Orange county would take heed to this action of the Rock Island. Several months ago a man and his wife were instantly killed at Northam Crossing. In due course of time an inquest was held and a coroner's jury held that the railroad should establish "protection" at the crossing. The matter was taken up by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce and the County Board of Supervisors. This resulted in a resolution being sent to the State Railroad Commission in which the recommendation of the coroner's jury was cited and the request made that action be taken toward the fulfillment of the jury's recommendation.

Thus far nothing has been done by the railroad company and the request of the jury, chamber of commerce and the County Board of Supervisors has been ignored by the railroad commission, or if an order has been issued by the commission, it has not been obeyed by the railroad.

Frances and Marks

Fresno Republican

Secretary Mellon's letter to Senator Borah regarding the prospects of payment by France of the war debt either goes out of the way to be casuistically complimentary to France or else displays a sanguine cheerfulness in no wise supported by the facts he mentions.

The head of the American treasury department is quoted as declaring that France has indicated that eventually it intends to make arrangement for the definite funding of its obligations to the United States. As the last basic fact mentioned in the letter occurred in August, 1922, and this fact included an official statement that France had postponed consideration of her obligation "indefinitely," the reference is not very encouraging. And since then, it has been publicly stated by the administration in France that the Paris government regarded the French debt to America as depending for payment on the German debt to France.

Apparently we can regard this "definite funding" as on the same plane of probability as the definite funding of the German mark.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

THE RIGHT TIME

I watched a tire repair man fix a puncture in a tube one day. After roughening the surface and applying the cement he went about some other work, came back a couple of times looked at the cement, did some other little job, and finally put on the patch, and applied the necessary pressure.

Turning to me he said "You see, there is an exact time to apply the patch and there's no use doing it before that time. And if I wait a little too long then I'll have to do the work again, because the patch would never hold out on the road."

I know some folks who have admitted that as youngsters, yes and even as grown ups, that when Nature's call came to them, that the intestine should be emptied, simply ignored the call, because they thought they were too busy, or wouldn't be bothered. Now what's the result?

They have a lazy intestine, a stagnant liver, attacks of indigestion, headaches, and a lack of ambition for mental or physical effort. It is hard to understand how intelligent people, who will look after the smallest need in their home or motor car, will neglect the promptings of the most precious of their possessions, their own body.

When food has passed through the small intestine and had most of its nourishing matter absorbed by the blood, it passes into the large intestine. Here some slight absorption also takes place, and by the time the material gets to the last few inches of the intestine it is ready to be expelled from the body.

So good old Dame Nature notifies you promptly of the matter. Your notice is just as direct as the summons you receive from your telephone or door bell.

Obedience to the call, by the establishment of a regular time if possible means real intestinal health.

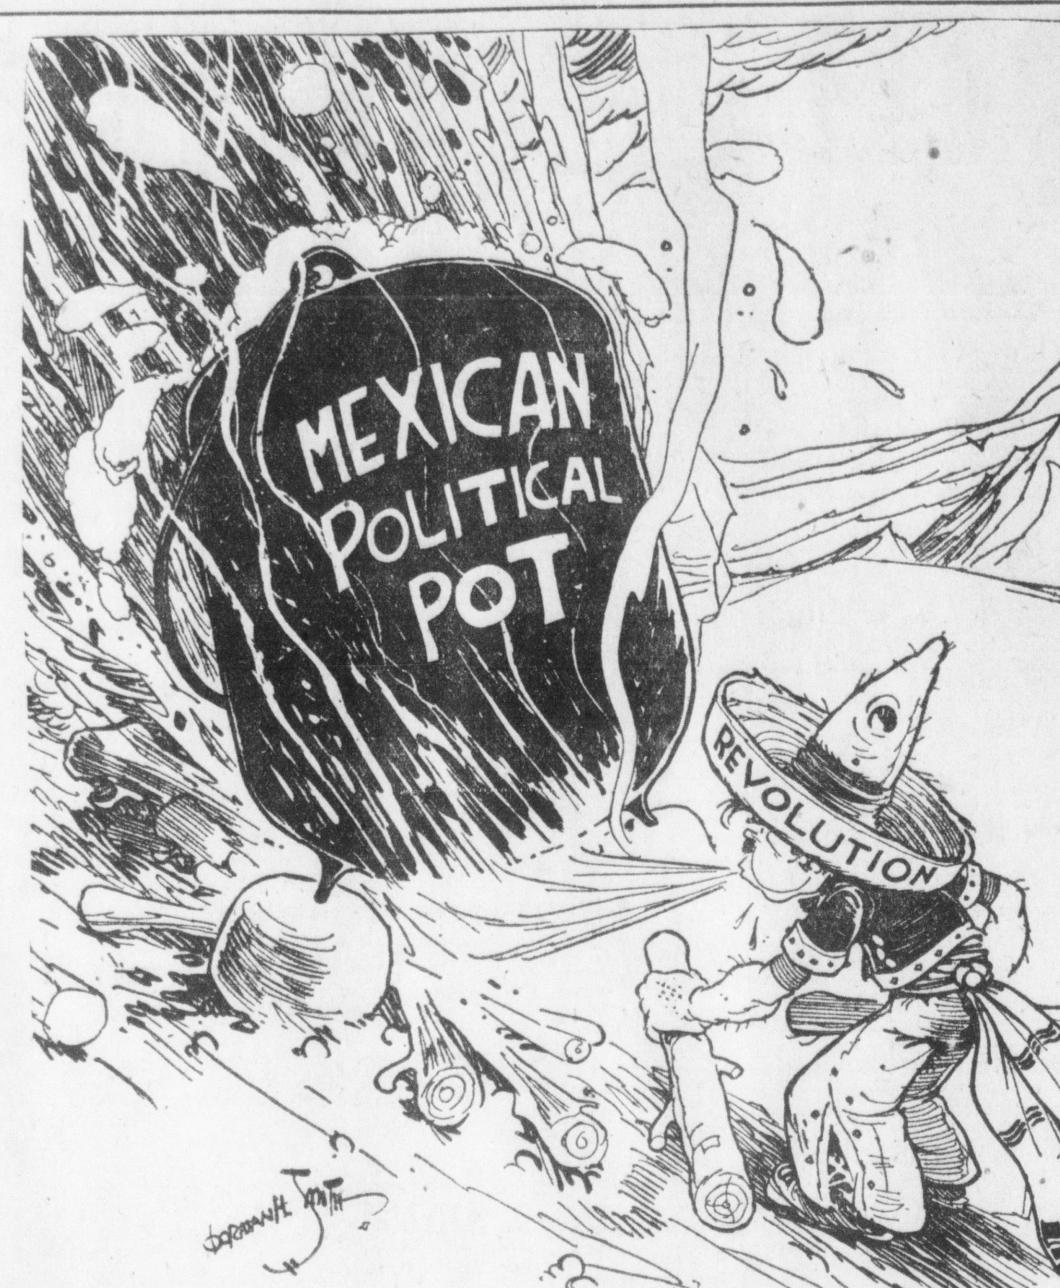

Your family doctor will tell you that it is the intestine that is the beginning of most of the trouble he finds among his patients. There may be troubles in the kidneys, the liver, even in the heart and lungs, but if your intestine is right, your blood will likely be right, as it courses through all parts.

Pure blood is your big asset.

Don't neglect Nature's call, even if that call is faint and low.

The Great Gift

By Bill Adams

To me the best gift to humanity by the higher gods was the gift of Friendship.

The word is sadly abused—abused perhaps as much as any word we have.

I have a friend who once wrote to me saying—

"Are you aware that there are not half a dozen men beside yourself whom I would call friend—it is too sacred a word to scatter broadcast."

I replied to him—

"Are you aware that the word friend is but the word used by men in an endeavor to express a great and beautiful gift—a jewel given to humanity by a higher Hand—a jewel thrown, I believe, broadcast upon the wide field of life, that it might sprout up everywhere in radiance—not a thing to be kept for a few men about one only?"

There is the trouble of it. We are too selfish with our friendships.

We have a way of seeking out men who like the things we like, and are incapable of taking hands whose owners do not see precisely with our own vision.

We need, it seems to me, to be able to step into the shoes of the other man; and be he rich or poor, learned or ignorant, to try to see just as he sees—else how shall we win to sympathy with him.

I am a very simple man who can never get enough of love out of life's turmoil.—From Adventure Magazine for December—Copyright, 1923, by BILL ADAMS.

In far-off Japan;
Beauty had woven
Her sweet spell around us.

I lay in your arms
In all sweet surrender.
The look in your eyes
Was a tender caress;
Music of temple bells,
Buddha was calling;

Your prayer was: "I love you!"

My head on your breast.

The shadows grew deeper,
The moon cast her magic;
The dim, distant harbor
Was dotted with ships;
Romance and happiness
Entered our garden,

And there in the moonlight—

Oh, dear love, your lips!

by Lee Pace

After supper last night pop took a little book out of his pocket saying, "Heir it is, the Erly 8.

The wat? ma sed, and pop sed. The Erly 8, its a short sistem of Sweedish exercises, or American exercises of Sweedish descent, and if you jest do these 8 exercises 8 times apeee wen you get up every morning the very ferst thing, you're supposed to feel in perfect shape the rest of the day. You're supposed to, but do you? ma sed.

I don't know but I'm going to try, pop sed. I'm going to start tomorrow morning by setting the alarm clock 20 minnits ahead and doing these exercises 8 times apeee, he said.

My goodniss, Willyum, I hope you're not going to count out loud, ma sed, and pop sed. Certeny I am, the directions tell you to so you can put more spirrit into it. Wat I reely awt to do is take the victorla up in our room and do the exercises to music. The directions say that the perfeck way, he sed.

Now, Willyum, how about the naybers at that hour in the mornin, and how about me, I couldn't get eny sleep with the very ideer of a victorla in the bedroom, mutch less a victorla in full blast, not to speek of you counting and carrying on at the same time, ma sed, and pop sed. Well, all rite, we'll omit the victorla. I wish it was morning now so I could be taking my Erly 8 and then starting the days werk with vim and vigor, he sed.

Seeing is beleiving, but jest the same I hope I dont wake up and lose my good morning sleep for eny such a site, ma sed.

With she didnt, on account of pop getting up and shutting off the alarm clock and going back to bed to sleep the extre 20 minnits instead of exercising them and then sleeping so long he was late for the office, getting a little exercise running for the trolley car.
